Re: Response to Objection – Case No. 22-11068 (JTD) Doc 6283, FTX Trading Ltd., et al.

To whom it may concern,

I am writing to formally respond to the objection titled "Debtors' Twelfth (Substantive) Omnibus Objection to Certain Overstated Proofs of Claim (Customer Claims)" in the matter of FTX Trading Ltd., et al., Case No. 22-11068 (JTD) before the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware.

Claimant Information:

Name: MAX NICE INDUSTRIAL LIMITED

Claim Number: 70045

FTX Account ID: 104569487

Email: maxniceeth@gmail.com

On January 27, 2024, we received an email from FTX Noticing ftxnoticing@ra.kroll.com with the main content titled "Notice of Twelfth Omnibus Objection to Proofs of Claim" (as depicted in the attached picture, labeled as Appendix I).

We hereby withdraw any further objections. We agree to accept the account balance presented on <https://claims.ftx.com/> as compensation verification, totaling US$1,157,281.54 and 642,443.90 FTT (as indicated in the attached picture, labeled as Appendix II).

Furthermore, due to the transaction records downloaded from <https://claims.ftx.com/> lacking clear indications of the time zone, we initially misconstrued the time zone determination, leading to an incorrect calculation of the claimed amounts by our colleague. On February 2, 2024, we dispatched an objection via international express delivery, utilizing DHL for logistics. Upon realizing the error, we have requested DHL to intercept and cancel the shipment. However, owing to the international nature of the express delivery, we cannot confirm the success of the cancellation. Should you receive the international express mail sent by our company via DHL (License plates of Pieces in Shipment: JD01 4600 0107 7622 7703, as depicted in the attached picture, labeled as Appendix III), kindly consider it null and void, and recognize the opinions presented in this letter as the formal stance.

Thank you for your understanding and support.

Best regards,
